What do I want to learn or understand better?

I want to understand better how set up the sprints and work with a backlog. I will read more about scrum and sprints and hopefully my team members will have some knowledge to share as well.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

I can share my knowledge about programming for android to the team members who are not used to it. Specifically some design patterns and the lifecycle of activities and fragments can be confusing which I can help explain.

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

I was active in a team meeting and reflection where we discussed the business model and started planning the following week with the first sprint. I have also discussed with the team about how we are going to use the backlog and the user stories.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

I helped set up the backlog in trello and started adding epics/user stories where we can then order them in terms of priority and get an overview of what is being worked on and how much progress has been made. Together with the team we also created a first mockup of the app to realize our idea.
